Exploring Cloud Technologies & Data Management
Bandung, Jawa Barat, Indonesia

Ringkasan

I am an Information Systems student with a focus on Cloud Computing, I am actively building my skills and knowledge to become a future Cloud Engineer. Currently, I am enrolled in the 2024 Cloud Computing cohort at Bangkit Academy, where I am sharpening my understanding of cloud technologies, data engineering, and system integration. I am eager to contribute my skills to building innovative solutions that improve operational efficiency and support digital transformation.

In the future, I aspire to work in cloud engineering and architecture, helping businesses optimize their cloud infrastructure, enhance data security, and implement cutting-edge solutions. I am always open to networking, learning, and collaborating on exciting projects that push the boundaries of cloud technologies.
